This item is being presented as information only. No action to be taken.

BACKGROUND:

In response to bus operator shortages, Los Angeles Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) will be implementing short-term service reductions. Currently approximately 10%-15% of all weekly bus service is being cancelled. These cancellations are not pre-planned or publicly noticed, resulting in unreliable service and inconsistent service frequencies. In an effort to provide the public with service predictability and reliability, Metro will be reducing service effective February 20, 2022

A Metro representative will provide a presentation on this item.
